

Use the following thoughts and questions to have a spiritual conversation as a family. Don't emphasize having the right answer, but focus on spending time discussing the Word as a family.

Scripture

Luke 3:23,38; Romans 5:12-21

Session Summary

Christ came to overcome the destruction of Adam, both in terms of our guilt and our corruption. The condemnation for our guilt must be corrected through what Paul in verse 16 calls justification, our being declared to be legally in a right standing with God. But not only are we declared justified, but our sin-ridden selves are progressively renewed and changed through a process known as sanctification.

Conversation Questions

- Based on these passages of Scripture, how do we need to reshape our view of sin?
- Has our family ever witnessed or experienced an injustice?
- Why are we thankful that God shows justice to our sin? Why are we thankful that He also extends grace and mercy?
- Are there areas that we still try to earn our own righteousness? How can we surrender that to the Lord?

Family Challenge

Have some fun with your family and break out a standard ruler or measuring tape. Take turns measuring your arms, your ears, your smiles, your big toes, and your height. Compare the biggest to the smallest. Use this activity to base a conversation on how none of us measure up to God's standard of righteousness and how we need His righteousness to cleanse us from all of our sin.
